

Franco-British interactions in science since the seventeenth century

EUROPEAN SOCIETY FOR THE HISTORY OF SCIENCE
SOCIÉTÉ FRANÇAISE D'HISTOIRE DES SCIENCES ET DES TECHNIQUES
THE BRITISH SOCIETY FOR THE HISTORY OF SCIENCE
MAISON FRANÇAISE D'OXFORD

Maison française, Norham Road, Oxford
Friday 24 and Saturday 25 March 2006

This international symposium is a joint initiative of the European Society for the History of Science, the Société française d'histoire des sciences et des techniques, the British Society for the History of Science, and the Maison française, Oxford. It is the first in what is intended to be a series of symposia organized by the ESHS in collaboration with national societies or other appropriate bodies.

The symposium will begin immediately after lunch on Friday 24 March and will continue through the whole of Saturday 25 March, ending at 17.00.

A visit to the Museum of the History of Science has been arranged for the early evening of 24 March; this will be accompanied by a brief presentation of the collection by the Director, Dr Jim Bennett, and a drinks reception. Following the visit to the Museum, a conference dinner will be held in Oriel College, although participants in the symposium will be free to make their own arrangements for dinner if they prefer.

The symposium will take place in the Maison française, Norham Road, Oxford. Accommodation will be available, mainly in Oriel College, for the Friday night, 24 March, and (for those who wish to arrive early or stay until Sunday) for the nights of Thursday 23 March and Saturday 25 March as well. The conference fee of 37.50 euros (£25.00) will cover the cost of lunch on 25 March and of coffee and tea throughout the meeting.

Further details (programme, registration, accomodation) are available on the University of Oxford History of Science, Medicine and Technology webiste*

For further information, contact Robert Fox or Anne Bonnefoy.